Nti Cd Dvd Maker Platinum 7 Serial

i checked the website and i'm using the correct serial number that was given to me through amazon. i tried to register my product and it says the serial number is invalid and/or already in use error code: -14. it will not let me open the program. i have entered all my details that i have for my account and nothing is working. i've checked the serial number 5 times now. i've never had this problem with any of your products in the past. i entered the incorrect serial number into the registration process. i have entered the correct serial number and i am still getting an error. i tried entering the correct serial number in three different ways and i am getting the same error. what should i do? press each key slowly and deliberately and press the stop key once you have finished typing. the key is released by pushing the release switch on the top of the remote control, or by lifting the finger from the keys, so as not to register the same key twice. if you try to press a key twice, the remote control will respond with the message "you have already pressed stop. press another key." i have downloaded the software nti cd & dvd maker and i have gotten an error message saying that 'the file was not found. the file you are attempting to open, "c:\program files ti media maker ti cd & dvd maker\uninstall.msi", is being used by another process. please close all instances of this program and try again.' i have closed all programs and still get the same message. i have also tried downloading a newer version and still the same message. what do i do? 5ec8ef588b
